Rage and chaos at BID meeting

By Harry Walton
hdswalton@yahoo.co.uk

FURIOUS exchanges, clapping, jeering and more than 140 interruptions gave a bear pit atmosphere to a beleaguered annual meeting of Weymouth Business Improvement District.

Board members were on the back foot from the word go after the start had to be delayed for 15 minutes so audience seating could be more than doubled because of a queue of people trying to sign in to the meeting at the Royal Hotel.

Once inside there was no quarter given by levy payers deeply concerned at what was happening to their BID money, how it was being spent and how angry they were at poor communication by the Board.

Many left the meeting deeply unsatisfied at what they had heard including gift shop owner Chris Steadman who told the View: "It was a farce."

"The Board came across as totally arrogant and I shall be trying to reach as many levy payers as I can to table a vote of no confidence in the Board at an extraordinary general meeting as early in the New Year as possible."

Earlier the most heated exchange came when a seething Councillor Francis Drake accused the Board of the "underhand" sacking of a former director, Bob Rezaei, for asking questions they didn't like; a claim BID joint chairman Alison Theobold strongly denied, claiming it was for "non-professional conduct".

But the tone of the meeting had been set with events swinging from intense questioning of the Board to what one onlooker described as debate of almost "schoolyard squabble" proportions.

Councillor Drake also claimed confusion over what he said were "seven different constitutions" available to members, but he was told the constitution was not on agenda discussion topics and had only been included "for the purposes of transparency".

That transparency finally saw Alison Theobold admit that "technically we don't have a constitution".

She added that

ALISON Theobald is joint chairperson of the Weymouth Business Improvement District. She was born in Middlesex and has lived in Weymouth since 1988. She went to school at Budmouth and then Weymouth College before going to work in the financial sector where she is now a fully qualified independent financial advisor.

● WHY do you live in Weymouth?

Because it is a beautiful place and this is where my business is.

● WHERE do you go for your holidays?

Somewhere different every year. My motto is that you never visit the same place twice. For my last holiday I went to the Maldives.

● WHAT is your favourite time of the year?

Summer because the weather is lovely and Weymouth is a fantastic location to be near the sea where you can make the most of your surroundings.

● WHAT is your favourite film?

War Horse because it is a great story which covers all emotions.

● WHAT is the scariest thing that has ever happened to you?

Coming face to face with a snake in a zoo when I was a child. It was not in a display but hanging round a woman's neck who was showing it off to visitors. It was just in my face when I came round a corner and I screamed and ran off.

● IF YOU could live your life again what would you be?

The same as I am now because I am so happy with a lovely business and a lovely family.

● WHICH people would you invite to your dream dinner party?

Marilyn Monroe, so I could see what she was really about, and Winston Churchill because I just think he would be incredibly interesting because of the circumstances he lived in and the decisions he had to make.

● WHAT would you do if you won the Lottery?

Pay all my friends and family's mortgages off.

There are no pockets in a shroud.

● WHAT do you hope the future holds?

Health, wealth and happiness. Those are the three things that matter.

Osprey Leisure Centre halved energy bill in three years

OSPREY Leisure Centre on Portland has saved more than £120,000 on energy costs over the past three years by working closely with energy experts.

Success has seen the centre recognised by Wessex FM and awarded the Going Green business award sponsored by Danmoor Lodge Residential Home.

In 2010 the management team at Osprey realised that if they did not invest in reducing energy costs the centre would not survive.

So the team joined forces with two experts, consultant Wendy Carmichael who advises on improving resource efficiency and Dr Bob Hardwick of Lean Energy who is an expert in energy conservation.

The annual utility bill at Osprey in 2010 was around £120,000. Less than three years on and with the help of a loan from the Carbon Trust, the energy bill for the centre in 2014 will be just £60,000.

Wendy Carmichael said: "What impressed me about the Osprey project was that the management set their ambitions high and, with a forward thinking manager in Nigel Williams and the help of Dr Hardwick, the team embraced new technology."

Dr Bob Hardwick has now been working with the Leisure Centre since 2006 when the building was handed over by a lease from Cromer Homes to Osprey Leisure Centre.

Osprey has used many tactics to reduce energy costs since then including pool covers, lighting, air handling and water control.

Dr Hardwick said: "We are now confident that we have "lean energy" consumption at the centre, so now is the perfect time to invest in renewable energy from sources such as solar power and heat pumps.

"The government is very keen to get us all to move away from gas, so the site will be paid a Renewable Heat Incentive (RHI) under the national scheme to support the installation costs.

"The installation is ground-breaking because it increases the amount of renewable energy supplied by this heat pump system to more than off-set, by a factor of two, the costs of operating it.

"The results of the system will be measured very carefully and the energy savings and RHI income will, we predict, reduce the current £60,000 annual energy bill at Osprey to under £20,000.

THE calm before the storm at the annual BID meeting

amendments had been made and she hoped levy payers would comment on the proposed amended constitution ahead of a vote "but we cannot call a vote on this today", to which one wag replied: "Well why don't you call a meeting when we can vote!"

There was then a shambolic attempt at voting for new Board members with some people having voting slips, some having none and the appearance of mass voting against Board nominations.

Butcher Dennis Spurr, who is a BID director, rounded on Board critics, saying he only joined the BID a year ago to give something back to the town since when it had been "the same antagonists who are causing all the trouble".

The BID will collect £1.5 million over five years from more than 500 businesses and use it to try and encourage more visitors into Weymouth to boost business, but other speakers said

"We are all against you because we don't see a return for our money".

But Alison Theobald said: "We are really glad there are a lot of you here. We want to do something to help the town and we need your help to do it. We don't need people to beat us with sticks."

She welcomed "an excellent suggestion" from Andy Cooke that, if the Board was handing out business, it would make sense for the BID website to have a section where people could be made aware of what they wanted the Board to do.

Another speaker said he hadn't noticed any benefit from the BID whatsoever or any extra business drawn into town, but Mr Spurr said businesses had to make the effort to attract customers inside their businesses once visitors had been encouraged into town, perhaps changing their business front to Alison Theobald said one of the biggest criticisms of the Board was poor communication, something it was looking to tackle through regular surgeries on a regular day for a couple of hours when people could say exactly what they wanted the Board to do.

After the meeting BID joint chairman Alistair Clarke said: "We expected difficulties at the first annual meeting.

"We don't think we did that badly during the first year. We have received a lot of complaints and we will be working hard to deal with them."

suit an individual event.

The meeting had been opened by Alison Theobald who said progress was being made on the BID's five-year plan with camera recorders being used to measure visitor footfall to provide data to encourage new retailers to Weymouth.

After the meeting BID joint chairman Alistair Clarke said: "We expected difficulties at the first annual meeting.

"We don't think we did that badly during the first year. We have received a lot of complaints and we will be working hard to deal with them."

EIGHTY YEARS OF BLENDING MARKED WITH NEW FLAVOURS AND FREE TEA FOR LOCAL BUSINESSES

LOCAL company Keith Spicer celebrates 80 years of tea blending and manufacturing this year with the launch of a new range of fruit, herbal and green teas from its flagship brand Dorset Tea.

The brand was created five years ago to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the company's founder Keith Spicer's blending and delivering tea to Dorset businesses on an old butcher's bike.

To mark this occasion and new product launch the Dorset Tea team is offering companies around the county the chance to win free Dorset Tea for their workers, delivered to the premises by the Dorset Tea team on their new Dorset Tea butcher's bike.

Entrants simply need to tell the Dorset Tea team what's makes the perfect Dorset Tea break and enter their details on the competition page at the Dorset Tea website – www.dorsettea.co.uk

Full terms and conditions are available at the website but the closing date for entry is November 30th.

Included in the prize will be the new fruit, herbal and green tea range which comprise: Blackberry Sylabub, Foraged Fruits, Strawberries and Cream, Wild Dorset Tea has also revamped its website for the launch. The new site includes an updated look and feel, as well as an eshop.

The range will be available in Waitrose from October 23rd at an RRP of £1.99 for 20 tea sachets. Single sachets will also be available for the OOH sector and the whole range will be on sale via the brand's website.

Seal pup found on beach

A SEAL pup is being nursed back to health after being abandoned on Abbotsbury beach.

The grey seal was found by fishermen on Sunday (November 23rd) in a state of dehydration but is now being looked after at West Hatch Animal Centre, near Taunton.

Roz Buckley from the centre described the seal as "skinny" as it only weighs 14kg, when young seals usually weigh around 40kg.

She said it was possible its mother was young and had ended up further along the South West coast than usual, and given birth to the pup on the beach at Abbotsbury.

The pup is said to be doing "really well" and "looking really well hydrated" and is being fed fish soup as a substitute for its mother's milk.

Once the pup weighs about 45kg it will be reintroduced to the wild off Devon.

The RSPCA said it was "very rare" to find a seal in the area as there are no nearby colonies and they are normally found off the coasts of Wales, Somerset, Devon and Cornwall.

Civic Society hands out awards and praise

ATTRACTIVE new housing in Easton Square, Portland, has won Weymouth Civic Society's coveted annual award for 2014.

The small group of two houses and three flats on the west side of the square are in a conservation area next to the methodist church hall and church".

The society added: "These attractive new houses are built of Portland stone with slate roofs and sliding sash windows.

"They blend with the locality in materials and detail, creating a link between the simple style of the traditional Portland dwellings nearby and the more robust Victorian Gothic design of the church and church hall adjacent.

"Altogether the new development brings a distinctive character and harmony to this side of Easton Square, considerably enhancing the area."

Developer and building contractor MJC Builders and architects Paul Dean Associates received the honour during an awards evening at the Nothe Fort in Weymouth, recognising special projects within the built environment.

Society chairman Mary Bennett said: "This year there have not been many projects nominated for the annual awards but those we have seen are worthy candidates. They are all relatively small in scale, no major developments."

"Most awards are for new buildings replacing inferior or inappropriate ones, resulting in a very real improvement".

A special award went to the Wild About Weymouth & Portland Partnership which commissioned waypoints for its legacy trail from Littlemoor to Portland Bill at important viewpoints or landscape features of special interest.

The society said: "Each is unique but all are constructed of Portland stone to blend with their surroundings. Some are in the form of artistic drystone walling, skilfully designed and executed with graceful curves."

The drystone work by Shaun Seaman and sculptures by Portland Sculpture & Quarry Trust and Sarah Gilpin were all praised.

Other awards included Certificates of Merit for The Joinery at Pebble Lane, Chiswell, Portland, and to New Cottage at Upwey Mill, Weymouth.

The Society also presented three Letters of Appreciation for the "imaginative and amusing" shopfront mural The Fakery at Fortuneswell, Portland, for the new house St John's View at Ventnor Road, Portland and for restoration work to Weymouth Old Town Hall in High West Street.

■ IPACA students demonstrating their computer skills

IPACA pupils show off their digital excellence

THE Isle of Portland Aldridge Community Academy (IPACA) has played host to a special event of digital excellence among pupils.

Kidsmeet saw First School pupils from Frome Valley, Damer, Milborne St. Andrew, Cerne Abbas, Cheselbourne and St Mary's Middle School join together at the Academy.

Host and Academy digital learning and innovation director Gary Spracklen said: "The event was an opportunity to celebrate and share how digital technology is being used to engage, innovate and inspire learning.

"For over a year now we have been working with schools from the Dorchester Area Schools Partnership to prepare for the new computer science curriculum, sharing best practice as teachers and sought effective methods of introducing assessment and moderation into this new curriculum area.

Year 5 pupil Finley Short said: "It was a fantastic day! My group shared with teams from another school how we can invent imaginative solutions to problems using a Makey Makey board."

Mr Spracklen said: "This technology can be applied in lots of different circumstances to solve an array of problems and, when linked to coding, can support A-Level and degree-level studies and research."

Cheselbourne First School headteacher and Dorchester Area Schools Partnership ICT Group leader Bob Duffin said: "We want to thank Gary Spracklen and his team at IPACA for all their efforts to organise Kidsmeet.

"Everyone has said what a fabulous day it was and it was great to see more of what happens down at IPACA."

Town takes steps to become dementia-friendly

WEYMOUTH Community Safety Centre will be hosting the launch of the Weymouth and Portland Dementia Action Alliance (DAA) on Thursday, November 27th from 5.30-6.30pm.

Weymouth and Portland Mayor, Councillor Kate Wheller, will attend and make official the area's commitment to supporting people living with dementia.

DAA co-ordinator for the Alzheimer's Society, Jo Bazalgette, said that ever increasing numbers of people living with dementia meant it was crucial for communities to come together to help them live the best quality of life possible.

It is estimated that Dorset, excluding Bournemouth and Poole, has 8,500 people living with dementia and that between 2009 and 2025 this is expected to double, so it is crucial that communities act now to ensure that people are well supported and get help to live well in spite of their illness.

An Alzheimer's Society paper recently published shows that 35 per cent of people who have dementia leave their homes once a week or less. Two thirds of those people said that they lack the confidence to go out for fear of getting confused or lost or of being a burden to people.

Jo Bazalgette said: "This is a situation which needs to change. Everyone has the right to feel supported within their community.

"In Weymouth and Portland there has been an enthusiastic response to the project which proves that people are absolutely willing to make small adjustments to their businesses or services which will make a big difference to people living with dementia.

"The more people are aware of dementia the more confidence people will have to live as active a life as possible despite their illness."

Organisations in the area have already started pledging to treat customers and service users who are living with dementia with patience and respect.

More businesses and services will be approached over the next few months with the aim of raising awareness of dementia and increasing the membership of the alliance.

A beautiful forget-me-not logo has been designed exclusively for Dorset by local artist Sarah Hough. This has been made into window stickers and displayed by businesses and services that have made a commitment to become "dementia friendly".

Any activity or event which welcomes people with dementia will also use this logo so they can have confidence that they will be treated with understanding and respect.

If members of the public would like to attend the launch or are interested learning more about how they can become dementia friendly, please contact Jo on 07730287199 or email at jo.bazalgette@alzheimers.org.uk.

■ FROM the 2013 Chase the Pudding race

A ruckus of rampant Santas

A CHRISTMAS pudding will be raisin' a ruckus when it gets chased along Weymouth Beach by a motley collection of santas, elves and fairies.

The town's annual Chase the Pudding event will take place this year on Sunday, December 21st and people are invited to come along and watch the fun along Weymouth seafront at 11.00am.

It cost £10 for adults (£15 to include a Santa suit). Under 10s go free with a family member.

A Will Mackanas Trust spokesman said: "We are really looking forward to this year's event creating a festive spectacle and raising money for an important local good cause. It is going to be a lot of fun and the money raised will help us to continue this important work throughout the borough."

Bustinskin director Mark Steen said: "I am really pleased to be working with the local charity Will Mackanas Trust.

It is a very worthwhile cause. I am sure that many local club runners and enthusiasts will turn out in great numbers to share this hilarious, happy and healthy seasonal event."

Registration is at 9am in Weymouth Pavilion Ocean Room followed by a warm up from 9.30am by fitness trainer Jodie Bateman. Competitors and spectators can use Pavilion bars and cafes which are open from 10am-4pm for refreshments with lots of warming food and drink on offer.

This year's Chase the Pudding will be started by Wessex FM breakfast presenter James O'Neil, Weymouth & Portland Mayor Councillor Kate Wheller and stars from this year's Pavilion Theatre panto, Aladdin.

Basepoint raises funds for disabled children

■ Sue Williams Lucking from Basepoint presents the cheque to Dave Beeston, Treasurer of Butterflies Children's Disability Fund

BASEPOINT Weymouth has raised nearly £1,000 for its nominated charity, Butterflies Children's Disability Fund, through a series of fundraising events.

Operating since 1975, the charity was formerly known as Earlybirds and supports disabled children up to the age of 18 in west Dorset by providing them and their families with specialised equipment such as tricycles, beds, weighted blankets, and car seats.

Dorset yearbook reveals new treasures

ONE of the world's most famous poems, 'The Soldier', is commemorated in the 2015 Dorset Year Book.

It was written in 1914 by Sub-Lieutenant Rupert Brooke while training at Blandford Camp with the Royal Naval Division. Its lines include: "If I should die, think only this of me, that there's some corner of a foreign field that is forever England."

The work is published by The Society of Dorset Men which has increased this edition's pages from 166 to 214.

It contains a varied selection of interesting articles, historic and topical, on the life and times of Dorset people, events, towns and villages incorporating many interesting photographs and illustrations.

Year Book Editor Trevor Vacher-Dean said: "I never realised how it would take over my life. I feel like the keeper of a treasure house. I hope our readers enjoy this Year Book and also appreciate what a labour of love it has been for all who have made a contribution."

Contents include Peter

Pitman, then at Portland Secondary Modern School, who remembers leaving Easton station at 7.15am one morning, to travel to the Festival of Britain in 1951. Lunch was provided on the train: steak & kidney pie, followed by ice cream!

Palmers Brewery at Bridport, 'a 221 year success story,' is chronicled by Michel Hooper-Immins, who reveals some 50,000 pints of real ale are produced every week in the thatched brewhouse, which dates from 1794 in the times of King George III.

The life of countryman Frank Palmer, born at Upcerne in 1915, is summarised by Philip Knott. 'At the age of ten, Frank was milking four cows before and after school.' In the 1920s a fleet of charabancs took children from all the local schools on outings to Weymouth.

The front cover and eight colour plates are reproductions of paintings by Arthur Cecil Fare (1876-1958). The front cover shows St. Peters Church and High East Street in Dorchester while other plates include Milton Abbas and Corfe Castle.

Over 80 real ales and ciders from around the UK will feature at the event, including local breweries and producers.

Palmers' Managing Director Cleaves Palmer said: "Palmers Brewery is very pleased to sponsor Beerex for 2015. This event raises the profile of traditional ale and of course raises a huge amount of money for really important local good causes."

This year's committee chairman Rick Dowell said: "It is a pleasure working with such a dedicated team who are currently working hard to ensure Beerex 2015 builds upon the success of the previous 26 festivals. We are looking forward to a new partnership with Palmer's as our new main sponsor together with our regular and new barrel sponsors. Beerex

Victorian Christmas show night is back in town

A SNOW, Santa and shopping extravaganza headed by a spectacular lantern parade is coming to Weymouth.

Victorian Shownight was a huge success last year and 2014 organisers, Roger Dalton Associates, say it will be even bigger and better this year, not least because Weymouth Business Improvement District has gained a £9,000 grant from the Arts Council.

It will be used with Emerald Ant to create a gleaming lantern parade, involving seven schools and the local community, which will leave Hope Square at 5.00pm on Friday, December 5th, and head through town to Lower Bond Street, where the Christmas lights will be turned on by Weymouth and Portland Mayor, Councillor Kate Wheller, helped by pantomime characters.

The fun starts at 3.00pm with an ice rink, choirs, festive music and dance. The full programme of entertainment and street theatre, marching bands and a Christmas food and gift market will continue throughout the evening after the lights are turned on.

The two-day event, for which Pennsylvania Castle is the gold sponsor and Battens and the Chamber of Commerce are the silver sponsors, continues on Saturday, December 6th from 11.00am-4.00pm.

Father Christmas and his helpers will arrive at Santa's grotto, by St Mary's Church, on his Norwegian sleigh pulled by two reindeer at 11.00am.

There will also be a Christmas market and a full programme of entertainment and street theatre throughout the day.

Event co-ordinator Kat McConnell said: "The town centre had an amazing atmosphere in 2013 and it really got us into the Christmas spirit.

"We're really looking forward to being part of this year's shownight festivities."

The project brings together a partnership between Weymouth BID, RDA and Emerald Ant to work together on one of Weymouth's favourite outdoor events and this year the lanterns will focus on airborne Victorian travelling machines.

Taking wild and wacky Victorian invention as the inspiration, they aim to create a myriad of 150 illuminated, colourful "travelling" apparatuses attached to the body, propeller hats, buoyancy floats and winged flying machines made by primary school children.

■ ENTERTAINERS from last year's event

Secondary schools will produce around six airborne structures: highly patterned zeppelins, hot air balloons and airships, and be in the parade.

The team will be working closely with their media partners to encourage families to create their own simple 'flying lantern' made at home, and join in with the parade. It is hoped that a professional professional band will also join the spectacle.

The project will have up to seven schools involved with groups of children and young people working in teams to create large structures, before performing on the parade.

The theme has inspired schools to learn about the Victorian Age of Invention with schools encouraged to engage in research prior to workshops.

Businesses which would like to take part in the event should contact Roger Dalton on 07899 978104 or email rogdalton@yahoo.co.uk.

■ FESTIVE lights at last year's event

Carols at Greenhill Gardens

Friends of Greenhill Gardens are inviting people to their Christmas carols in the gardens at 4pm on Sunday, December 7th.

The event will be held at the bandstand and there will be free mulled wine and mince pies.

Christmas lunches at Lodmoor

A CHRISTMAS fun lunches are being organised at the Brewers Fayre function room in Weymouth's Lodmoor pub on Preston Beach Road.

The events on Tuesday, December 2nd and Friday, December 5th cost £9.99 and will both be held at 12.30pm.

Guests can sing along and enjoy festive food, fun and frolics including the ridiculous Terry the Turkey, hilarious seasonal stories, carol singing, Father Christmas, a tombola and a delicious two-course turkey meal.

More than 100 tickets have already been sold and those interested in buying a ticket can contact Iain Campbell on (01305) 768446, email iaincampbellgo@yahoo.co.uk or go to www.christmaslunches.co.uk.

Christmas craft fair packs Masonic hall

■ Ali Marfell and Ellie Porter

PORTLAND'S Masonic Hall was packed when it hosted a Christmas craft fair and open day.

The event was staged in aid of the hall's building fund and charities supported by the masonic lodge.

Organiser Ali Marfell said: "We had nearly 40 stalls and they all had a very strong Christmas element.

"People could browse everything from gloves to woodcraft and from honey to body care."

"We also had some unusual stalls such as one making bird feeders from teacups and another offering decorated bottles."

"The response from the public and traders to our event has been tremendous and we hope to hold the fair again next year."

Weymouth Matters

A personal View by HARRY WALTON

Seventies shenanigans on the quayside

IT'S amazing what can come to light with the passing of the years.

All quayside quips at the moment are about the impending sale and demolition of the council offices and what will be built in their place.

I'd venture to suggest that every resident in the entire town should keep a stern eye on what is being proposed so we don't have a repeat of damage to the historical environment which cast such disgrace when the council offices were built in the 1970s.

Several of my readers have kindly provided me with even more information about the goings-on four decades ago when plans were submitted for the new council offices which involved swatting aside poorly maintained Tudor homes as if they were ramshackle chicken houses.

There was a public inquiry, an event particularly generated by two conservation minded architects, Eric Ricketts and Ernest Walmsley-Lewis.

They highlighted the obvious and grievous loss of historic buildings and the street plan, but there were also considerable doubts about the "real" intentions of the council.

Apparently the inspector conducting the inquiry specifically asked the council's barrister: "Was there actually room for the council offices, the public library and the health centre and all the associated car parking on the site," which the council was suggesting?

He was assured that there was which is why there is a small car park either side of the main council offices block.

But you can look there until hell freezes over and you won't find hide nor hair of either the health centre or the library, underlining the council's unique skill in providing their own special interpretation of provision of public services which continues to this day.

Eric Ricketts and Ernest Walmsley-Lewis may have lost the war but they made sure they won a few battles, scouring the demolition of the area to make as many sketches, notes and measurements as they could in the very short time available.

Of special interest was the Tudor harbour master's house where Eric Ricketts bravely went as far as entering the house during demolition and removing the staircase balusters.

They proved to be almost the only items rescued and they now form the alter rail in St Anne's Church at Radipole.

My bride and I actually stood there in St Anne's when we married there in 1983 but it is only very recently that I have been sent details about the alter rail and its connection with the old harbour master's house.

It seems the rail will outlive the council offices and quite right too. There is more historical worth in them than the entire council offices put together.

Bird baiting

WELL seagulls have really gone and done it now!

Mind you, squawking through the two-minute silence at Remembrance services was always going to be unpopular.

The result has been a certain amount of public criticism sent to councillors with some fairly innovative suggestions on how the seagulls can be dealt with.

One of the more aggressive ideas was to bring along a hawk to scare them away from the service area near the cenotaph.

But, as one councillor pointed out, that might just swap the squawking of seagulls for the screeching of the hawk!

I like my suggestion a lot better. Wait until five minutes before the service starts and then scatter a couple of plates of chips on the Pavilion car park.

About ten seconds later you'll have every seagull in the place squabbling over scraps and the service can go ahead in relative peace.

Problem solved.

Should the Council take the lead to move drunks?

MANY congratulations to Weymouth Police for reducing the frequency of drunks slumped on the steps of the railway station.

They are hardly the first impression the town wants for visitors arriving here, but neither should they be the second impression for visitors walking into town along the seafront.

There were eight inebriates squabbling over whose turn it was with the cider bottle when I walked by the other day.

To be honest, if people want to get wrecked at 10.30am in the morning that's their business provided it doesn't impact on others, but when there are families about with children then neither the behaviour nor the language should be tolerated.

Certainly one mother being pestered by her daughter about what had happened was at her wits end to answer questions about why the men – and women – involved were slumped in the shelter or actually lying on the ground.

Fortunately her own daughter bailed her out by saying: "Are they tired?" to which mother gratefully replied: "I'm sure that's it."

Perhaps that explains the origin of the expression: "As tired as a newt!"

Whatever the reason, it may be time to consider more permanent measures to deal with these people since moving them on from the railway station merely seems to be switching the same problem to a different place.

Police are stretched enough as it is so this may be a social nettle that the council might have to take a lead in grasping, perhaps through a few more effective bylaws than those which are currently in place.

Firearms amnesty sees more than 90 weapons handed in

A GUN surrender campaign has ended in Dorset with more than 90 weapons handed in.

Dorset Police ran the two-week campaign between Monday, November 3rd and Sunday 16th to encourage anyone holding an illegally-held firearm to dispose of it safely.

The initiative was aimed at local people in the community who wished to hand in unwanted firearms and help take guns out of circulation permanently.

It also gave licence holders the opportunity to surrender weapons they no longer had use for.

A total of 93 firearms were surrendered to stations across Dorset during the campaign. This included: 31 handguns, 11 air rifles, 27 shotguns, seven air pistols, six BB guns, four replica guns, five rifles, one humane killer and one bird scarer. A large amount of ammunition was also handed in.

Operational Support Superintendent Nicky Searle, from Dorset Police, said: "We are extremely pleased at the success of this firearms surrender and would like to thank everyone who took part."

"The vast majority of these surrendered firearms were not being used in criminal activity. Our aim is to stop guns falling into the wrong hands. Every gun given up is one less that poses a threat or that criminals can potentially get hold of."

"I would like to remind residents that Dorset is a very safe place to live with very low levels of gun-related crime."

"Levels of illegally held firearms are low but this surrender was a real opportunity for members of the public to relinquish any weapons that may be outside the law."

Individuals taking part in the campaign received an amnesty for possession of the firearm at the point of surrender to a lawful authority. It did not provide immunity from prosecution if the weapon was found to have been used unlawfully.

A small number of firearms handed in during the gun surrender will be submitted to The National Ballistics Intelligence Service (NABIS) for examination. Any guns that are proved to be linked to a crime will be kept as evidence and retained for any future court case proceedings.

A previous firearms amnesty staged in Dorset in 2003 saw more than 300 firearms handed over to police.

■ A BIRD scarer was handed over

Cllr Flower steps aside as county council head

SPENCER Flower has today stepped temporarily aside as leader of Dorset County Council, following police charges over alleged failures to declare an interest in a property company.

Cllr Flower will formally remain as leader but for the next few weeks his deputy, Cllr Robert Gould, will take on his responsibilities.

This will allow Cllr Flower's colleagues to remain focused on leading the authority in its important work transforming services at a time of huge budget reductions.

Cllr Gould will take up his new duties immediately.

The Crown Prosecution Service in Wessex has authorised Dorset Police to institute proceedings against Cllr Flower with three offences under section 31 and 34 of the Localism Act 2011.

This Act requires members of a local authority to disclose certain financial interests on taking office and to refrain from participating in council business which will affect these interests. These offences relate to Cllr Flower's involvement with East Dorset District Council and Dorset County Council.

He will appear before Bournemouth Magistrates' Court on December 2nd.

Cllr Gould, who represents the Sherborne division, said: "I have taken on county council leadership responsibilities for a period of up to six weeks.

"This arrangement is similar to what would happen in the case of illness or absence, and is in line with our constitutional rules.

"It will allow us to continue the vital work of the county council, with the minimum of disruption.

"The county council requires the highest standards of probity and compliance from its members, and takes such matters extremely seriously."

Cells no place for those in mental health crisis

POLICE and Crime Commissioners (PCCs) across England and Wales are helping to shape how organisations will work together better to make sure that people in crisis receive urgent mental health care.

PCCs are therefore committing to work with agencies across England and Wales to develop a joint plan of action for how they will work together to improve services.

The Mental Health Crisis Care Concordat is a national agreement between services and agencies involved in the care and support of people in crisis.

It sets out how organisations will work together to make sure that people in crisis receive urgent mental health care. All PCCs have already signed up to the agreement and local plans are being put together.

Dorset PCC Martyn Underhill is chairing a workshop at today's Partnership Summit on reducing the use of Section 136 of the Mental Health Act.

He said: "We need to make sure that the vulnerable receive the right care, at the right time and in the right place. They need to be looked after by a health care professional, not by a police officer and not in a police cell."

"The Mental Health Concordat brings PCCs and partner agencies together under a joint approach for assessing and improving the care of people in mental health crisis."

We are leading work to develop action plans to deliver the Mental Health Concordat's principles. In several areas of the country, including Dorset and Staffordshire, pilot street triage schemes to improve mental health care for those in crisis have been recognised by the Home Secretary.

"The police have a role in helping those in mental health crisis but they should not be relied upon. Their role should be to identify the vulnerable and flag up issues to agencies but this only works if health services are available 24 hours a day."

"We need to foster closer relationships with health agencies across the country and ensure that the vulnerable receive the most appropriate care."

Some areas have already seen significant reduction in use of S136 following introduction of local plans. More than half the forces across England and Wales now operate some form of street triage, delivering significantly improved responses to those with mental health needs who come into contact with the criminal justice system.

East Boro calendar goes on sale

RESIDENTS are being invited to make a date with a talented group of artists with learning disabilities.

Members of the popular East Boro Arts and Crafts Group in Weymouth have produced a 2015 calendar.

Each month is illustrated with a stunning painting with all proceeds going to charity.

Priced at just £5.99, the calendars go on sale for the first time at the group's annual Open Day and Exhibition which takes place at the Weymouth Community Fire Station this Thursday, November 27th from 11.00am-2.30pm.

Group supervisor Mel Symes said: "The group meets twice a week at the Fire Station and it has grown significantly over the past couple of years both in numbers and in the quality and complexity of the work produced."

"We wanted to do something special this year. Each month of the calendar has a gorgeous painting which each artist has created to best represent that month. The results are truly stunning and I think people will get a lot of pleasure from seeing one of the calendars hanging on their wall."

"There are also photographs and details about all the artists too and it makes both an affordable and lovely Christmas present."

"I hope people will support the artists' efforts because all the money raised will go to good local causes. It's been a wonderful project to work on and I congratulate all who took part and say thanks to our printers, Print Shop Express for their help and generosity."

The Open Day and Exhibition is free and there will be refreshments and a prize raffle available.

Calendars can also be ordered by contacting Mel Symes on (01305) 750403 or 07881 343 129.

Police launch strategy to tackle alcohol misuse

Police and Crime Commissioners (PCCs) from across the country have marked Alcohol Awareness Week by launching a national plan to tackle alcohol misuse.

With the annual cost to society of alcohol-related crime in England estimated at £11bn, PCCs are doing increasing work to tackle misuse of alcohol.

Commissioners are keen to work with partners such as local authorities, the third sector, Public Health England and businesses to tackle shared issues.

Tony Hogg, Devon and Cornwall PCC and Chair of the APCC's Alcohol Work

Group said: "Commissioners are already doing considerable work in their local areas to reduce alcohol related crime and misuse. This group will now provide us with a powerful collective voice nationally to influence change and make a real difference. The cost of alcohol misuse to our society is enormous, and we simply cannot allow this to continue."

Martyn Underhill, Dorset PCC, said: "Police and Crime Commissioners have a huge role to play, lobbying and challenging government, partners and the industry to drive cultural change, improve legislation and improve health outcomes in relation to alcohol."

Police commissioners agree to work together as a cross party group to champion and drive forward action on alcohol related crime by:

- campaigning nationally and locally for improvements to the law,
- raising awareness and educating drinkers to drive cultural change and reduce levels of harmful behaviour
- working in partnership with policing, health, third sector and industry partners to deliver a joined up and effective response, and
- helping to build the evidence base on alcohol related crime and harm.

Magna drivers have road safety training

IN THE lead up to road safety week (November 17th-23rd), Magna Housing Group, with the support of Dorset County Council, has provided practical driver training for 303 members of staff to ensure they do their bit for road safety.

The practical driver training was a 90 minute refresher session with an approved driving instructor, conducted on local roads. At the end of each session, Magna was provided with an assessment sheet for each driver.

Rob Hicks, multi skilled carpenter at Magna, said: "I found the session very useful with the advanced driving instructor. A big pat on the back for organising it."

Magna's health and safety advisor, Steve Fowlie, said: "We were very pleased with the initial results and, with the support from Dorset County Council, were delighted to be able to extend the programme beyond our original target to include all people who drive on behalf of Magna."

Lacey Goodwin, from the road safety team at Dorset County Council, said: "We are proud to have been able to support Magna in providing driver training to their employees. I believe that driver training should be an essential part of employee induction where driving is included in their job role, and I'm really pleased to see that Magna have recognised this."

Magna will continue to promote road safety with its drivers. Steve added: "We now include driver safety training in the induction sessions for new starters and all new employees who drive for Magna will be sent for a practical driving session with an advanced driving instructor during their 6 month probation period."

MAGNA drivers are safer drivers

Drive safer on Dorset's roads campaign

A CAR with four youngsters in it smash into woodland provided a graphic start to a Safe Drive Stay Alive presentation launching Brake Road Safety week in Dorset.

A film of the fictional crash, backed up by real life incidents told by emergency service staff was staged at Weymouth Pavilion Theatre in front of 450 people including more than 330 students and young drivers. The final speaker was a father who had lost his son in a crash.

The presentation was one of many events including free Dorset Driver Gold Courses for over-65s and special school visits to Weymouth Community Safety Centre being staged by Dorset Fire & Rescue Service and SafeWise during the week to educate road users.

Among those attending were more than Dorset Chief Fire Officer Darran Gunter and Dorset Fire Authority chairman, Councillor Rebecca Knox.

Mr Gunter said: "The Pavilion event was very important. We ran real case studies for hundreds of new young drivers and took them through some quite tragic choices, circumstances and consequences of actions on the road. Our aim was to save lives by changing lives."

Safe Drive Stay Alive was introduced to the audience by WCSC education officer Dave Allan who told the View: "A simple act on the road can have devastating consequences."

"This event tried to portray those consequences to encourage young drivers to take responsibility for their actions and to ultimately become safer drivers."

"Sixteen people have died on Dorset's

A "CRASH" scene outside Weymouth Pavilion

roads so far this year which is down on 2013 but it is still 16 people who will not be seeing Christmas this year. The year has also seen 261 people seriously injured.

"Anyone affected by the devastating effects of losing a family member or friend in a serious road traffic collision knows that this type of initiative will help save lives in the future. This is why we are working during Road Safety Week to educate as many drivers as possible."

WCSC co-ordinator Vikki Thomas said: "The launch of Road Safety Week at Weymouth Pavilion saw young people from Kingston Maurward and Weymouth College, IPACA and Purbeck sixth forms and DFRS's own Modern Apprentices coming together for the first time to be immersed in one of our many education packages.

"If any colleges or sixth forms have been unable to attend the launch, we can provide packages at the centre on Radipole Lane to educate their young people and would recommend they contact us."

For more information on the activities being put on for Road Safety Week please contact Weymouth Community Safety Centre on (01305) 753050.

Christmas Cheer event to kick start Bridport's festivities

ABC Blinds

ABC Blinds have operated in Bridport and served the people of West Dorset for over 37 years, we still do business the traditional way, where quality and service are extremely important. We won't bamboozle you with facts and figures, as we think the number that is important is our 37 years of sincere trading!

We are totally independent and are not part of a big chain, so we don't have to focus on volume sales; instead we can oversee your blinds being as you want, allowing you to relax in the knowledge that you will get the right blind for your windows.

We never use over zealous salesmen or gimmicks, just good old fashioned HONESTY; we will not sell you a blind you do not need or is inappropriate for your window space. We only sell quality products at a good price all year round, eliminating the need for pretentious sales or discounts.

We are members of the Guild of master Craftsmen and adhere to and exceed the high standards expected. From conception to completion, ABC Blinds is the trusted name you can rely on.

Dorset Scouser

A LOCAL photographer has created a Dorset calendar which is taking the county by storm! Stephen Banks has been photographing night skies in Dorset for three years. His 2015 'Dorset's Dark Skies' calendar is the culmination of many late nights' work.

The calendar features iconic Dorset landmarks, such as Durdle Door and Portland Bill, surrounded by the night sky and the Milky Way. He says that the images are "Dorset as you've never seen it before."

"It takes a lot of perseverance and quite a lot of stamina to get the shots required. The Milky Way is most visible in the sky during the height of summer, when we have shorter nights. Most of the images in this calendar were taken in the early hours of the morning.

"You also need to have the right conditions. I need the clearest nights, with no clouds or haze present, and no moon."

"We are lucky here in Dorset because there are no cities or motorways, so some parts of the county experience very little light pollution. This is essential for good stargazing conditions. Couple that with the wonderful scenery of Dorset, and you're on to a winner!"

The calendar is available from Bridport Post Office, Cafe Ann Day in Beaminster, Highland's End Holiday Park in Eype, Winfrith Village Stores in Winfrith Newburgh and The Exchange in Sturminster Newton, as well as on Stephen's website, www.dorsetscouser.com. They are £10 each, making them a great stocking filler for anyone looking for a unique gift this Christmas.

Delivery Folk

YES, Christmas is coming, the goose is getting fat – and how on earth are we going to get that partridge in its pear tree safely delivered to Auntie Mabel?

Let alone little Sebastian's vintage Rolls Royce pedal car and cousin Susie's grumpy frog garden statue!

All those witty and unusual presents that seemed such a good idea at the time, can pose a problem when it comes to making sure they arrive under the tree by Christmas morning.

Santa's elves know the answer – put the job on www.deliveryfolk.com

Log the details, find a carrier who is already making that trip and who can use their van, truck, car or even sleigh to make your deliveries for you.

Or if you are always making journeys and would like some extra cash to fill the Christmas coffers, register as a carrier on Delivery Folk's easy-to-use website.

That way anyone who needs to move seasonal stuff from A to B will be able to find you easily and get in touch.

At Delivery Folk we know that not everything fits in an envelope or a nice tidy parcel, or even a stocking.

So how cool would it be to find someone who's ready to load up a festive Froggy and escort him safely to his new home, sort out a price and make friendly arrangements for collection and delivery that suit everyone?

That's one more thing ticked off the Christmas to-do list then, thanks to Delivery Folk – what a cracker of an idea!

Sunny Days Nursery

DIRECTORS, Joy and David Scadden, launched Sunny Days Nurseries in 1995 and ever since they have been dedicated to the provision of quality childcare for West Dorset families, and have not lost sight of their initial desire for the very best early years for children, and peace of mind for parents.

In 2004 Joy and David opened Sunny Days Bridport, in an original Georgian Coach House, in the heart of Bridport town centre. It was then a well-known local pub called The Lily where David's late Uncle John a Master Butcher in Bridport used to have a pint of Palmers Ale and play darts regularly on a Friday night. The pub closed in the early 1990s which David re-designed and fully refurbished into a modern children's nursery.

Sunny Days Bridport has bright, colourful play rooms, a cosy cot room, a dedicated dining room, and large all weather indoor and outdoor playgrounds. The staff are all fully trained and are dedicated to the tender loving care and early education of babies from 3 months up to 5 years getting the children ready for school.

Sunny Days Nursery in Bridport will be open to the public for Bridport's Late Night Shopping on Wednesday 3rd December. There will be a free crèche for 2 to 5 year olds on the night, as well as nappy changing facilities and refreshments, and staff will be on hand to show people around the nursery.

Your guide to local live music

Bridport's own roots master teams with top drummer

BAND ON! STOMPIN DAVE JOINS FORCES WITH SAM KELLY

STOMPIN' Dave teams up with drummer Sam Kelly for a feast of blues, boogie and banjo at Evershot Village Hall on Friday, December 5th.

Described as "One of the world's greatest performers" by Maverick Magazine, Bridport's own Stompin' Dave is perhaps best known round these parts for his madcap hillbilly dancing and award winning banjo picking. But Dave has these last few years begun making waves on the UK's blues scene, this year Dave was nominated for a British Blues Award in the acoustic act category.

Back in 2000 Dave joined Bournemouth based blues band The Producers, UK Blues Band of the Year award winners 1998-2001. Alongside Dave's adventures in bluegrass music Dave has found time to release ten blues albums and has made regular performances at various blues festivals and clubs. This year Dave earned an unprecedented sixth consecutive invitation to the legendary Boogaloo Blues Festival on the Isle Of Wight. "a master of all kinds of American Roots music...a formidable musician and a true original."The Daily Telegraph.

London based Sam Kelly has been voted into Blues In Britain magazine Gallery of the Greats, as a five-times winner of the UK Drummer of the Year award. Sam has recorded albums with Gary Moore, Ruby Turner, Rory McLeod and Stan Webb. Over the years Sam has performed with such well known artists as Dr. John, Ben E. King, Robert Plant, The Foundations, Chaka Khan, Billy Ocean, and Michelle Shocked among many, many others.

Stompin' Dave

Sam recently performed with Paul Jones, Imelda May, Andy Fairweather Low and Chris Barber. Jules Bushell formerly with the Thunderbridge Bluegrass Boys will be joining Sam and Dave on bass.

This event is promoted by the popular Band On committee. There will be a licensed bar serving draught real ale, draught lager, scrumpy, a range of wines, spirits and soft drinks. Doors open at 7.30pm, the music and dancing will start at 8pm. For more information you can call 01935 83580. Entry is £10 on the door, advance etickets at £8 are available from the website www.stompin-store.com/etickets

A WANDER AND A WONDER

DORCHESTER Community Choir and friends will be performing a special fundraising concert this Saturday, November 29th.

'A Wander and a Wonder' is a special seasonal concert at the Dorchester Community Church, Acland Road, and will take place from 3pm.

The concert is aimed to be like the Choir's very own 'Live Aid' event, with a wonderful range of local professional and young musicians. It will include something to suit all tastes, ranging from jazz to classical, brass to folk, with some Christmassy, some non-Christmassy - as a gentle wander into Advent!

The line up includes three local professional musicians: Trevor Whiting, Jon Valender, Paul Farrall (jazz, classical, brass); two consultants and a junior doctor from DCH on fiddle, piano and cello; soloists from Thomas Hardy, Beaminster, Southill and Frome Valley schools; and Dorchester Community Church choir (who are hosting the concert).

The concert will also feature a children's choir formed specifically for the event via YouTube. It is hoped this will be the birth of Dorchester Community Youth Choir.

Entry is free, and there will be free coffee and mince pies in the interval, with a retiring collection in aid of the Ebola Crisis Appeal at the end of the concert.

WEST GALLERY MUSIC CONCERTS

WEST Gallery Music is the name describing the harmony songs that used to be sung in English country churches from the 18th century onwards, usually accompanied by a band of musicians playing fiddle, serpent, trombone etc. The musicians and singers from the village would sit in what was known as the West Gallery in the church. The music was vibrant, full of life and is accessible today (as it was in its day) to all singers and instrumentalists, from amateur to professional. A number of rural churches in the South Dorset Ridgeway area have retained their West Galleries, and, as part of the Heritage lottery Funded South Dorset Ridgeway Landscape Partnership projects, this style of music is being recreated by Artsreach with the help of a choir of local singers and musicians, led by folk musicians Tim Laycock and Phil Humphries.

The Ridgeway Singers and Band have explored carols from the Puddletown and Pulham manuscripts, and rehearsed two newly composed carols inspired by the South Dorset Ridgeway, and will present them as part of a special programme in two concert this winter at St Mary's, Puddletown on Sunday, November 30th, and St Swithun's, North Allington on Sunday, December 14th. Both performances are at 3.30pm.

ICE AGE ART

British Museum Curator to give talk at Dorset County Museum

IN 2013 the British Museum staged a unique exhibition of Ice Age Art, created between 40,000 and 10,000 years ago. It presented masterpieces of sculpture, ceramics, drawing and personal ornaments from all over Europe. These striking objects are now the subject of a fascinating talk at Dorset County Museum by the exhibition's curator, Jill Cook

Jill is a Senior Curator and Deputy Keeper of the Department of Prehistory & Europe at the British Museum. She is an archaeologist whose interest in archaeology began in Dorset as a teenager when she volunteered on Roman villa excavations at Durnovaria. At university the subject of her dissertation was Edward Cunnington and his excavations of Dorset barrows. Since then, she has specialized in the deeper history of much earlier periods, investigating the archaeology of human evolution, as well as the history of archaeology.

During her talk on Ice Age art at Dorset County Museum on 5 December, Jill Cook will show some of the masterpieces from the exhibition such as the British Museum's mammoth ivory sculpture of a pair of swimming reindeer, plus the oldest known sculptures, drawings and musical instruments from Europe. Far from being simple objects from a remote time, Jill will explain how these works of art are important clues about the evolution of our brains and the development of modern human societies.

The talk will start at 7.30pm and entry is free. The doors will open at 7pm and all donations to cover costs will be welcome. For further information visit www.dorsetcountymuseum.org or telephone the Museum on 01305 262735.

Paddington Bear at The Teddy Bear Museum

TO celebrate Paddington Bear's launch into the film world next weekend the Teddy Bear Museum in Dorchester has a special display on the world's most famous bear that brings together some iconic examples of Paddington.

Paddington, the duffel coated, marmalade loving bear was born in 1958 from the imagination of Michael Bond. Since then, Paddington has become a great favourite with children worldwide selling over 35 million copies of Paddington books in more than 40 languages. The story books of the exploits of this bear from Peru have never cease to thrill and amuse children.

In 1975 the first animated tale of Paddington was shown on television by the BBC. Now finally Paddington has made it to the big screen with the release of the new star-studded film on November 28th.

To celebrate this release the Dorset Teddy Bear Museum has a special Paddington Display which features some exquisite Paddington's, some of the first Paddington's created as a soft toy in 1972 by Gabrielle Designs, often limited editions, alongside others including a special Steiff produced to mark his 50th Birthday. As well as many different examples of Paddington Bear he is surrounded by much of his memorabilia including books, toys, games and posters. Keeping Paddington company are some lovely examples of rare Aunt Lucy bears.

Marking the occasion the Dorset Teddy Bear Museum is offering half price admissions if you mention the secret phrase 'Marmalade Sandwiches', as well as 20% off all Paddington Merchandise.

Paddington is, quite simply, a national treasure and a firm favourite by the many visitors to the Teddy Bear Museum and a great friend of all the other bears – they love listening to his tales! The Teddy Bear Museum is situated in the centre of Dorchester and is open daily from 10am to 4pm. Visit the website at www.teddybearmuseum.co.uk for more details.

Christmas at Bridport Arts Centre

THIS December at Bridport Arts Centre have a fantastically festive programme of events to get you in the mood for Christmas. Some highlights include The Met Opera's performance of The Barber of Seville, the musical performance A Victorian Christmas, Miracle Theatre's Dr Livingstone I Presume and comedy from Rory McGrath and Philip Pope. Be transported to New York's world-famous Metropolitan Opera House on Tuesday, December 9th with to see The Barber of Seville. The Met's production of Rossini's classic comedy stars Isabel Leonard as the feisty Rosina, Lawrence Brownlee as her conspiring flame, and Christopher Maltman as the endlessly resourceful and charming barber himself. Why not make a festive evening of it, and enjoy a delicious two-course opera supper prepared in the Art Garden Café. Advance booking is essential for these meals as they are very popular and availability is limited.

On Friday, December 12th you are invited to congregate for a charming morning of music and entertainment, sampling the simple delights that our ancestors would have known with A Victorian Christmas. You can expect a morning of music, song, stories and drama from the time of Dickens and Hardy. There'll be some of your favorite carols with song sheets provided and some more obscure festive songs from the 19th century, as well as a festive masked play. On Friday evening Miracle Theatre return with a brand new show mixing caustic comedy, seedy songs and second-rate spectacle with dubious magic, dodgy ventriloquism and breathtaking burlesque the show will genuinely appeal to all ages!

Doctor Livingstone, I Presume is the epic story of one man's obsession to discover the source of the Nile and transform an entire continent single-handed – and of a woman left behind.

The Barber of Seville
Tuesday, December 9th

A Victorian Christmas
Tuesday, December 9th

Trio Hysteria And The Freedance Choir
Friday, December 5th

Join Rory McGrath and Philip Pope on Saturday, December 13th for Bridge Over Troubled Water, an evening of wit, elegance and clever musical pastiche (but don't worry, there's also silliness and filth). This is the show where music and comedy meet, have a few drinks, fight, then stagger home singing hits from the 60s. It promises to have something to offend everybody, a perfect alternative to traditional festive entertainment val of a performance rather than in a pub this December, or do something a bit different and bring the office Christmas party to a show. Everyone at the Arts centre wishes the lovely people of Bridport a healthy and happy Christmas and are looking forward to an exciting new programme of events in 2015.

To purchase tickets call our box office on 01308 424204 or book online at www.bridport-arts.com.

Welcome To My World

Stephen K. Amos at the Electric Palace this Saturday

FRESH from yet another Edinburgh Fringe run, plus touring Australia, New Zealand and the UK and recording Life: An Idiot's Guide and What Does The K Stand For (BBC Radio 4), feel-good maestro Stephen K Amos hits the road with his brand new show Welcome To My World.

Known for his warm-hearted wit and room-filling effervescence, Stephen puts the cha-cha in charm and the pow! in polite. But some may have noticed that behind that crisp 'n' clean exterior dwells an altogether different animal. He's a deep-thinking, problem-spotting and question-asking sort of gentleman, and Mr Amos believes the time is nigh to invite the public to meet this inner friend of his. He's been expecting you.

So is it no more Mr Nice Guy? No of course not, not on your nelly. But Stephen's got some questions and concerns, such as 'why is the world reacting to Russia's Ukraine invasion as it is?' and 'why are people really voting for UKIP?'; and to be honest is getting a little peeved that people in 2014 are still reluctant to talk about racial and sexual inequality – at dinner parties anyway.

Audiences can still expect the genial host of course (he's a comedian after all – making people laugh is his business), but with just the tiniest dash of subversion thrown in for good measure. Just think of Mr Amos as that guest who asks the awkward, pin-drop moment questions at your dinner party. He just happens to be hosting it too – so dust off your jacket, pull up a pew and fill your glass with comedy cocktail – it's Amos time!

Stephen K. Amos comes to the Electric Palace, Bridport on Saturday, November 29th at 8pm. Tickets are £17+bf advance, or £19 on the door. Advance tickets are available by calling 01308 424901 or from seetickets.com

In Conversation with Jill Kennington

JILL Kennington's Photographic work embodies the rare qualities of being taken by someone who has worked both sides of the lens and her talent is unquestioned.

Jill was one of the biggest models of the 1960s appearing in many of the top publications both in Britain and abroad, including the cover of Vogue Magazine. She worked closely with Photographer John Cowen to bring a new dynamism to fashion photography that was considered groundbreaking at the time.

The list of photographers she worked with throughout the 1960s and 1970s includes; Norman Parkinson, David Bailey, Patrick Lichfield, Terence Donovan, Duffy, Helmut Newton, Jeanloup Sieff, Richard Avedon, William Klein, Bob Richardson to name just a few.

Bridport Arts Centre, Allsop

Gallery is exhibiting a collection of Jill's work over the past three decades that shows an insight into her life as a photographer.

For this month's Artists Talk, taking place on Saturday 29 November, at 2pm Bridport Arts Centre are asking you to pose questions to Jill Kennington in any shape and form, via the #askjill. Laura Cockett, the new Director and Megan Dunford, exhibitions assistant will then put these questions to Jill Kennington on the day alongside those asked by people in the gallery.

Please send all questions by 11am on Friday, November 28th via Twitter to @bridport-arts using the hashtag #askjillkennington, or email exhibitions@bridport-arts.com

Tickets for the artists talk are free. The exhibition runs until Saturday, December 20th.

Electric Palace to screen Old Vic's performance of The Crucible

RICHARD Armitage stars in Arthur Miller's classic American drama, The Crucible, brought vividly to life in this visceral new production by internationally acclaimed director Yaël Farber at the Old Vic Theatre, and screened at the Electric Palace, Bridport.

In a small tight-knit community, personal grievances collide with lust and superstition, fuelling widespread hysteria. Miller's timeless parable attacks the evils of mindless persecution and the terrifying power of false accusations.

Richard Armitage's credits include the forthcoming film Into the Storm. Other film and TV credits include The Hobbit trilogy, Captain America: The First Avenger and Spooks. Theatre includes The Duchess of Malfi and Macbeth for the RSC.

Yaël Farber is a multiple award-winning director and playwright. Her production of Mies Julie won a string of international awards at the 2012 Edinburgh Festival, was named one of the Top Ten Productions of 2012 by The New York Times, and Top Five Productions of 2012 by The Guardian.

Arthur Miller is one of America's greatest playwrights. His many plays include All My Sons, Death of a Salesman and A View from the Bridge.

The screening of The Crucible at the Electric Palace takes place on Thursday, December 4th at 7pm. Tickets are £12 plus booking fee in advance or £14 on the door. Advance tickets are available through Bridport TIC on 01308 424901 or online:

A matinee screening will take place on Sunday, December 7th at 12noon. Ticket prices and information this same as the Thursday show.

FORTNAM
SMITH & BANWELL

PRINCIPALLY SPEAKING...

JUDY Fellingham of Fortnam Smith & Banwell in Charmouth offers some words of advice to those selling property over the coming months. Standing on principle can be an expensive position to adopt when buying and selling property. In a level or falling market hanging out for a high price because - in one's own view - it is worth it can often backfire, because a property which is too highly priced can look out of step with the rest of the market. Can sellers really know what their properties will fetch? Surely they are worth what others will pay for them.

Property purchase and sale is seldom an end in itself. It usually forms part of a life-changing event such as gaining independence, committing to a partner, starting a family or reaching retirement. These events are bigger than any property in the scheme of things. So standing on principle can sometimes stand in the way of moving on. We have just had two fairly good years of rising prices. We have got used to this.

But all good things come to an end - until the next time.

Despite the lowest interest rates and some of the best mortgage deals in living memory the property market is showing signs of cooling. Some prices set in the spirit of acceptable optimism earlier in the year are beginning to look decidedly over-inflated now. And, as any skilled negotiator will tell you, one should always open realistically.

A general election is on its way, the European economy again looks worrisome and Christmas is round the corner. If you have any big personal or family events which involve property purchase or sale now is the time to be reasonable about your expectations. Listen to buyers, listen to the market and listen to your experienced estate agent. Listen to your heart - and not your wallet. Wallets make poor property advisors. Good estate agents make better ones.

January is always a good month for marketing new properties and we expect it to be productive for property sales. If you are considering a move do get in touch to discuss the best way of preparing for a sale in order to optimise the presentation of your home.

2014 has been an extremely busy year for us in Charmouth with approximately 50 houses sold, let us help you in 2015

HOLDITCH, DORSET - £630,000

ESCAPE to the country in this beautiful 17th Century Grade II Listed property situated in a small hamlet surrounded by the rolling West Dorset countryside. The house ticks all the boxes for a family home: four bedrooms, two en-suite, family bathroom, farmhouse kitchen, dining room, sitting room, conservatory, study, utility room and two staircases. Internally, there is an abundance of character and the property is very well presented. Externally, the plot is around half an acre, most of which is south facing. There is a double garage and parking to the front with additional vehicular access to one side. The garden contains useful outbuildings providing workshop and storage space. The setting of the property is very pretty as is the little hamlet of Holditch, with the house set opposite a small green with a stunning mature tree at its centre. There are far reaching countryside views from the first floor and most of the garden is very private. Nearby, Thorcombe village (approx. 2 miles to the east), has a larger community and offers a village shop/PO, primary school, community run swimming pool, village hall and sports and social club, both of which hold many events throughout the year. The nearest towns are Axminster, around 4 miles to the south, which offers a range of shopping and leisure facilities as well as a mainline train station with regular services to London Waterloo and Chard, just over 5 miles to the north. The coastal town of Lyme Regis is just under 10 miles away. The property is offered to the market with an asking price of £630,000. Please call Gordon and Rumsby on 01297 553768.

BONSOIR HOUSE, CREWKERNE - £485,000

JEREMY Smith, Manager of the award winning Symonds & Sampson branch in Beaminster is delighted to be instructed to place on the market what he describes as possibly the best house in Crewkerne. Jeremy commented 'this is a really rare opportunity to buy not only a fine property, but also a little bit of Crewkerne's history'.

Bonsoir House is a Grade II listed Regency era town house built in 1840 by a local builder and architect John Patch. Originally built to house the owner of the adjacent sail cloth factory, it has more recently been used as an office building for the luxury pyjama manufacturer Bonsoir of London. Early view is advised to avoid disappointment as the property is priced to sell due to our highly motivated vendor.

Bonsoir House is arranged over four floors as follows:- Heavy timber entrance door to large reception hall, cloakroom, dining room with feature brick fireplace, study and a stunning 20' kitchen with fully integrated range of Smeg units including double oven, fridge/freezer, wine cooler, hob unit, dishwasher etc. Off the kitchen lies a large breakfast room. On the lower ground floor are two useful cellars. The first floor has a landing, super 20' sitting

New Qoros 3 City SUV 1.6T

MODERN distinctive design, ideal for an active city lifestyle, commanding driving position, excellent connectivity, high safety standards

New international car brand, Qoros, is revealing its third series production car, the new Qoros 3 City SUV 1.6T, at the 2014 Guangzhou International Auto Show. The pinnacle of the range, the compact City SUV is designed and engineered to appeal to consumers with an appetite for living life to the full, and who are looking for a car to fit into their active, premium, city lifestyle. With its distinctive, modern design it has the flexibility to balance the requirements of the urban commute with the pursuit of weekend leisure activities in the countryside. The new compact urban SUV is scheduled to go on sale before the end of December 2014 with prices starting from RMB 140,000.

Sitting 67mm higher than the 3 Hatch, City SUV drivers benefit from a more commanding driving position that delivers a sense of control, safety and security. For day-to-day city driving the City SUV provides better visibility for the driver, while the increased ride height ensures easier entry and egress. For out-of-town leisure activities, the new model offers higher ground clearance, larger wheels and robust body protection. The higher ride height enhances driveability and manoeuvrability to give the driver more confidence on rough or uneven road surfaces.

Developed by an international team of experienced specialists and new, young automotive talent from China, the Qoros 3 City SUV 1.6T exhibits the top quality engineering and excellent safety standards with which Qoros is making a powerful global impression.

The City SUV is being manufactured in the brand's new highly-efficient and environmentally-sustainable assembly plant in Changshu, 80km north-west of Shanghai, on the same production line as the 3 Sedan and 3 Hatch.

Exterior design

The new Qoros 3 City SUV 1.6T features a bold evolution of distinctive signature Qoros design cues, although aesthetic enhancements give the car a unique character and reflect the individualistic preferences of its target customers.

For the compact class, the Qoros 3 City SUV 1.6T features a comparatively long wheelbase (2694mm), generous width (1854mm), and a short rear overhang (815mm). These elegant proportions suit perfectly the vehicle's bold, high stance (1504mm), distinctive body cladding and detailed styling.

At the front, additional cladding and a front skid-plate give the face a more rugged, masculine look. The round fog lights are set into boldly-contoured recesses that wrap around the bumper, details that provide energy and poise.

The New Mercedes-Benz CLA Shooting Brake

▲ The new Mercedes-Benz CLA Shooting Brake

BREATHTAKINGLY sporty proportions and a powerfully dynamic design idiom with sensuously shaped surfaces already made the CLA unmistakable in its four-door Coupé guise. It is now followed by a further design icon, the CLA Shooting Brake, with a unique look all of its own. The lower overall height and the elongated coupé-style roof contour line, the low greenhouse and the sweep of the high beltline are the key design features of its distinctive profile. As is the gentle downward slope of the roof line, which makes for significantly more headroom than in the four-door Coupé. The CLA Shooting Brake (length/width/height: 4630/1777/1435 mm) will initially be available with a choice of two diesel and three petrol engines as well as with 4MATIC all-wheel drive. It goes on sale in January 2015, with the first models going to customers towards the end of March 2015.

"The new CLA Shooting Brake is the latest member of our successful family of compact models. The range, which now includes five models, covers an extremely wide spectrum: with the spacious B-Class sports tourer, the youthfully dynamic A-Class, the avant-garde CLA-Class Coupé and the compact GLA-Class SUV, we cater for a host of different customer wishes in this segment," says Ola Källenius, Member of the Divisional Board Mercedes-Benz Cars, responsible for Marketing & Sales. "Like its big brother, the CLS Shooting Brake, the CLA Shooting Brake is targeted at active customers who are looking outside of the mainstream for a car that impresses with a high utility value."

The guiding principle behind the designers' work was that of sensual purity as an expression of modern luxury. "The new CLA Shooting Brake offers a contemporary interpretation of sensual purity and represents the perfect synthesis between the emotionality of a coupé and the intelligence of a shooting brake," explains Gorden Wagener, Head of Design at Daimler AG. "The styling of our CLA Shooting Brake is extremely progressive as well as unmistakable. Once again, we have created a whole new class of vehicle."

The thrilling design details of the limited-edition OrangeArt Edition special model ensure that it brings an exciting note to the market launch. Orange highlight rings around the bi-xenon headlamps ensure that they stand out in spectacular style. The rim flanges of the AMG light-alloy wheels are painted in orange on the OrangeArt Edition.

Orange/black sports seats and orange contrasting topstitching help to define the interior.

As spacious as they come: beauty in its most practical guise

The elegantly long drawn-out Shooting Brake tail end, in conjunction with the variability that this offers, guarantees exceptional recreational value without compromising on the CLA's aspiration to represent design at its best. At the same time, headroom in the rear is significantly greater than in the four-door CLA. At 94.7 cm, the effective headroom in the rear is 4 cm higher than it is in the companion model. Access to the second row of seats is also much easier.

This spaciousness is one of the strengths of the Shooting Brake. The load compartment offers a capacity that ranges from 495 to 1354 litres (when loaded up to the upper edge of the rear seat backrests or loaded to the roof with the rear bench seat folded down, respectively). If the rear seats are moved into the more steeply raked "cargo" position, the load capacity increases to 595 litres while still leaving space for five occupants.

The width of the luggage compartment, at up to 1328 mm, is leading in this segment.

Clever little details, including the magnetic catch on the through-loading flap in the rear-seat backrest for long items, such as skis, are further typical examples of this carefully thought-out concept.

Options such as the electrically operated EASY-PACK tailgate or the Load Compartment package help to enhance convenience and variability when using the load compartment. Apart from the "cargo" positioning option for the rear-seat backrests, the Load Compartment package includes a collapsible box, a 12 V socket and an additional stowage net at the side of the load compartment. To add to the exclusive ambience, aluminium strips with anti-slip inlays are available as an option for the load compartment floor.

Dorchester Town - Magpies news

Magpies clinch morale boosting victory

Dorchester Town 2 Corby Town 1

Calor Premier - att: 290

HAVING squandered a two goal lead against Cambridge City the previous week, Dorchester Town made sure they didn't fall foul again beating second placed Corby Town at The Avenue on Saturday.

The Magpies, who had lost four of their previous five games, might have expected a tougher game from their visitors who were unbeaten in their previous eight league games, but in reality the Steelmen were disappointing.

Manager Graham Kemp included loan signing Robbie Matthews from Gosport in the starting 11 in the hope of adding goals to the side, and he almost obliged with his first touch but his volley from Andy Robinson's third minute corner was blocked.

Almost immediately there was panic in the home defence as keeper Alan Walker-Harris managed to stick out a boot to prevent Chris Dillon's over hit backpass giving the visitors the lead.

Then Shane Byrne hit the side netting after he had waltzed through some poor Magpies defending.

Matthews was showing his experience at leading the line with some deft flicks and little tricks as Dorchester took the game to Corby, but it was the Steelmen who went closest to scoring on 18 minutes when Wilson Carvalho thumped a 30-yard free kick against the crossbar.

deadlock broken

However, three minutes later it was the Magpies celebrating as Robinson scored a sublime goal.

A cross was only partially cleared to the former Saints man who curled a measured shot around keeper Paul Walker into the top corner of the net.

Dan Smith had a great chance to double the advantage almost immediately but he volleyed wide with only the keeper to beat.

He had another chance on 28 minutes but headed over from Nick Crittenden's cross.

It was all Dorchester now and they had a second goal ruled out for a debatable offside decision just after the half hour.

Smith's cross found Matthews at the far post. His close range shot came back off the upright and he calmly steered it home, but to no avail.

Robinson then had Walker diving to his right to claw away another free kick.

Five minutes after the break Matthews showed his experience once more.

Holding off the attentions of Edi Appleton who had a good game in the heart of the Steelmen's defence, he slipped the ball to Sam Lanahan, whose excellent shot saw Walker flying to his left to push it away.

vital second goal

Dorchester finally got the second goal their play deserved on 62 minutes. Dillon's long throw found Matthews who laid the ball back into the path of Smith, and although Walker got his fingers to his low shot, he couldn't keep it out.

Finally Corby appeared to raise their game. Sub Paul Malone found room to turn in the box but fired straight at Walker-Harris, before manager Tommy Hughes, who came on up front, netted with his first touch, but was ruled offside.

Kemp, realising former Leicester City striker Hughes' ability to dominate, quickly switched Matthews to replace Tony Rolls in the centre of defence, a decision that paid dividends.

Smith had a great chance to seal the points ten minutes from time, but blazed over at the far post.

This almost proved costly as Corby pulled a goal back with six minutes left, Weir-Daley being allowed room from a corner to turn and fire home through a melee.

However, this time the Magpies stood firm to take three precious points that lifts them just that further away from the bottom.

Lee storms home despite the weather

TONY Lee didn't let overnight heavy rain and squally showers, particularly for the early starters distract him in the November three club plus putter competition.

Lee stormed around the course to post a nett 65, six shots clear of Colin Davis in second and Mark Boggust third with a nett 73, in what was a non-qualifying event.

Davis went one better though in the Division One Wednesday medal competition, his 90-18-72 giving him a one shot victory over Nigel Barter (92-19-73). He took second on count-back from Peter Churchill in third with the lowest gross score in his 86-13-73.

The Division Two players outnumbered those in Division One, and there were new names at the top.

Mark Green carded the lowest gross score in his 89-22-67 which saw his handicap cut by two shots. Alan Delahaye with 90-22-68 was second, a shot clear of Phil Abbley with 92-23-69, a score that saw his handicap cut by one shot.

The Sunday medal was won by Peter Churchill who took first place with his score of 81-13-68.

He beat Brian Drammis (80-11-69) by a shot, and although Jules Walker achieved the lowest gross score with his 79-10-69, he had to settle for third on count-back.

The Three Counties team competed in the knockout stage of the Winter Shield when they played at Wheathill against Long Sutton.

At the conclusion of the fourth of five games, the score was all square.

The fifth game was halved, so sudden death was played as the match had to be played to a conclusion.

Unfortunately Charminster were beaten on the fourth extra hole.

Biathlon

Sanderson set for challenge

WEY Valley student Ollie Sanderson will be taking part in a national biathlon event in Solihull, Birmingham in January following outstanding achievements in the sport over the last four years.

A former pupil of Radipole Primary School, Sanderson is a member of the local Dorset Pentathlon Club which trains in Weymouth and has recently qualified for the national Biathlon event following competitions in London.

He said: "The sport involves running and swimming. I take part in after-school clubs at Wey Valley as well as being a member of the Dorset Pentathlon club in Weymouth.

The 11-year-old also is also looking forward to competing in London later in the year at the Olympic Park, including swimming in the Olympic Pool.

Sanderson is a member of the "Gifted and Talented" sport group at his school, which offers him the benefit of extra PE sessions to help him achieve his sporting goals.

Stuart Heath, PE teacher at Wey Valley said: "Ollie is an exceptional athlete and truly dedicated to his sport and studies at school. He has set high standards and should be commended for his aspirations to go further."

"The PE department and the school wish him every success with the National Biathlon event in the New Year."

Cup shock as Raiders topple Exeter Uni

WEYMOUTH RAIDERS 73
EXETER UNIVERSITY 2ND 67

WEYMOUTH Raiders became giant killers when they played hosts to Exeter University 2 in the second cup game of the season, in what turned out to be an epic victory.

Coach Craig Sorrell stressed the point of enjoying the game despite playing against an experienced Division One side who have been performing well this season.

This advice was taken to heart with the Raiders making good offensive plays running the break and, with defensive steals from Dan Park, the Weymouth Raiders soon found themselves playing an excellent standard of basketball, resulting in a first quarter lead of 14-12.

However, the second quarter was where the Raiders really showed how well they have improved this season.

Ben Stokey dominated the boards, scoring six successive points, and MVP

Piotr Lason found his shot from downtown to see the Raiders up 38-22 at half-time.

After the break, the Uni side brought out a stronger, different defence to stop the rain of points against them, and the Raiders fell back into their pattern of losing an early lead through basic defensive errors.

lethal Lason

It took Lason, who scored all the Raiders points that quarter to keep them in the game, and the quarter ended with the Weymouth Raiders having scored only nine to the visitors 24 points to hold on to a single point lead 47-46.

In the fourth quarter Sorrell was was hopeful of avoiding overtime and that the home side must improve their defence and cut down on the turnovers in order to get a win, but this turned out harder than anticipated.

The tension was high as both teams battled for the lead with Sam Brown and Jeff Robertshaw making strong cuts to the basket for the home team.

In the end however, it wasn't enough and with the score tied 63-63 the Raiders went into overtime.

However, instead of crumbling under the pressure, the Raiders dominated the OT, taking their experience from the last game (a double OT) to conclude the game; Robertshaw taking it to the hoop confidently and Max Gilmartin and Lason sinking buckets to win the OT 10-4 and a final score 73-67.

Sorrell remarked: "I am very pleased with the way the lads played, although if they had kept up the momentum from the first half, we would have won comfortably and that is something we must work on."

Raiders now advance in their campaign, playing Exmouth Jesters 1 in the next cup game. This victory strengthened the Raiders unbeaten home record

◆ MVP:

Weymouth &amp; District Table Tennis

Seven top clubs humbled by lower opposition

THE League's Handicap Cup saw no less than seven teams from Division One fall at the first hurdle against teams from lower leagues.

One of the most exciting finishes saw Dorset Youth B of Division three overcome YMCA in a very closely fought match.

It was nip and tuck with neither team able to open up more than a one-leg lead.

The deciding leg was a match-up between Dorset Youth B's Les Gardner and YMCA's Andy Webb but ultimately Gardner's handicap proved too much for Webb to overcome and he sealed a 5-4 victory.

The same score line saw hosts All Saints, also of Division Three, beat Wyke A. All Saints battled back from 1-3 down only to find themselves 3-4 down with two legs remaining.

Luke Dadds beat Shaun Beauchamp to level the match and then reigning U13 Weymouth schools champion Ben Hannigan inched past Mike Doyle to put them into the second round.

After taking a 3-0 lead, Budmouth A also went down 5-4 to Springfield B from Division Two. Tom and Lily Cherry and Sam

Millar all won their first legs in deciding sets to set them on their way.

Chris Whitehead and Paul Manvell then pulled two legs back before Tom Cherry opened up the lead to two legs and put Budmouth within a leg of victory.

Whitefield and Manvell then levelled the match beating Millar and Tom Cherry respectively before Angela Smallbone sealed a great comeback by beating Lily Cherry in straight sets.

Elsewhere, a good week for Springfield continued as their B team knocked out Red Triangle with a 5-3 victory.

Shipton Gorge A lost 5-0 to reigning champions Budmouth D of Division Three with Colliton X also losing (1-5) on the same night to the girls of Budmouth E, also from Division Three.

Division One table toppers Land Registry also went out but by a walk over, sending Preston A from the division below through.

The only all top division clash saw Pilgrims A sneak by Wyke M 5-3. The handicaps worked their magic in this match with six of the eight games going to the full three sets with John Ryan unable to stop Beeston sealing the victory in leg eight.

Budmouth C capped of a busy Wednesday evening at the school by beating Shipton Gorge C 5-3. A local derby between Preston C and Preston D wrapped up the cup's opening week and it was Division Three's Preston D that came through against their Division Two counterparts.

Dick Cottage got Preston D off to the best possible start but Dave Clegg hit straight back. Malcolm Smith (twice) and Stan Smith then recorded wins for Preston D before Cottage beat Dave Glanville and secured a 5-1 victory.

Round Two takes place week commencing December 15th with quarter-final places up for grabs.

◆ KNOCKED OUT: The experienced Shipton Gorge A team who lost to lower ranked Budmouth D in the Handicap Cup.

Gape strike quells yappy Yeovil team

BEAMINSTER 1 Yeovil & Sherborne 3rd 0
BEAMINSTER followed up their first victory of the season last week with a second against an unruly and bad-tempered Yeovil side.

Although it was only a single goal victory and did not come anywhere near to wiping out the ten goals Beaminster conceded in the reverse fixture on the first day of the season, they did have the satisfaction of leapfrogging their opponents to leave them on the bottom of the Channel One table.

Beaminster once again created a host of chances, and, but for better finishing and a superb display from the Yeovil keeper, it well could have been ten.

So dominant were Beaminster that their opponents only managed to get into the home 25 in the last ten minutes where they managed to force two late short corners.

The hosts started brightly and had soon forced a number of short corners which they failed to capitalise on and it looked like they were never going to score.

But midway through the first half Lydia Brooking's cross was met by Andrea Prentice.

It looked like the keeper had thwarted them again, but she could only parry the shot back to Prentice and when she fired in the rebound it hit a defender's foot, conceding a penalty flick.

Jackie Gape, back in Bridport for a couple of weeks, took responsibility to fire Beaminster ahead.

Beaminster dominated all over the pitch leaving Yeovil frustrated and eventually a player short for continually questioning the umpire's decisions.

The second half followed a similar pattern; the Yeovil keeper continually in action. Julia May hit the post after receiving the ball back in a well worked move, but they could not add to their total.

Finally Yeovil let their sticks do the work instead of their mouths and for the final ten minutes had success in Beaminster's final 25, winning two short corners.

An experienced side from set-pieces this was their chance to snatch an undeserved point, but Tracey Smith quickly closed down the play to give Beaminster their second victory on the trot.

◆ FINDING umpires and referees is difficult enough in local sport, and therefore it is disappointing that players continually haranguer them when they give their time for free. Without their goodwill, most local sport could not take place.

The continual questioning and bickering in the visitors' ranks finally led to the umpire Mike Harvey – a former England international – first of all green carding a Yeovil player, who persisted and was given a yellow and ten minutes in the sin-in.

BEAMINSTER: Izzy Mullins, Georgie Simmonds, Tracey Smith, Georgie Dyke, Kenny Clarke, Bella Foot, Julia May, Jackie Gape, Lydia Brooking (MOM), Andrea Prentice, Polly Davies, Hollie Clarke

Captain Rick Dorner picked out Gavin Brooking for his solid performance and Mike Thompson and Russell Coombes for their consistent hassling of the Plymouth defence.

Kellas and Dorner at the double

WEST DORSET A 4 NORTH DEVON A 2

AFTER losing at league leaders Bridgwater B the previous week, West Dorset A faced another tricky match at home to second placed North Devon A at the weekend.

The visitors started the brighter of the two teams forcing West Dorset onto the back foot in the open.

However it was the hosts who had the first attempt on goal when John Kellas's shot struck the top of the goal frame.

North Devon continued to pose the greater threat and it was no surprise when they took the lead after 20 minutes following a goalmouth scramble and things got even worse for the home side when Rich Wilson was forced off with a thigh injury.

However these setbacks seemed to spark the hosts into life as they reorganised and restricted the visitors' attacks for the remainder of the half.

Just before half-time they drew level when Alex Drew played the ball into Kellas who scored at the second attempt after his first shot was saved by the keeper.

In contrast to their lacklustre start, West Dorset began the second half playing the better hockey, displaying much more composure in possession with Drew, Rob Cox and Jules Lawrence dominating in midfield.

It wasn't long before West Dorset took the lead when Bob Dorner smashed the ball home following a short corner. He scored his second, a superb solo effort just minutes later when he beat a couple of defenders before blasting the ball past the keeper from a tight angle.

North Devon were struggling to cope with the home side's tight marking and fast counterattacks and began losing their discipline with some of their players constantly complaining and questioning the umpires decisions for which two of their players received warnings.

With ten minutes remaining West Dorset increased their lead. Dorner, who was giving the visitors defence nightmares, once again beat his man before crossing to Kel-las who slotted the ball home.

West Dorset continued to create further chances but could not add to their tally and North Devon were able to grab a consolation in the final minutes.

Meanwhile, scratch golfer Aaron Crabb's 39 points clinched 2nd place, while Andrew Dawe's 38 finished third.

In Division Two Tom Barclay made an impressive array of pars to score 40 points, with Luke de Pasquale (38) and Mark Lewis (35) in second and third.

The seniors' Marsh Tankard was won by David Lines' net 68 with Paul Mil-lard (72) in second and Keith Gibson (73) third.

The Ladies' stableford Division One was won by Jenny Scott with 33pts from Rosemary Jackman who just pipped Ellie Langford to 2nd with both 32pts.

In division 2 best score of the day went to Rosemary Dare with 36pts from Jane Broom 35 and Sandra Bar-clay 34.

Bees survive late Spartans revival

Bridport Reserves 4

Piddletrenthide Spartans 3

BRIDPORT Reserves had to survive a late comeback from Piddletrenthide Spartans after the Dorset Premier side had built up 4-1 lead after an hour writes Stuart Broom.

A Ben Clarke hat-trick had put the Bees seemingly well on the way to a quarter-final place, but the Dorset Division One outfit switched tactics and came within a whisker of forcing an equaliser.

Bridport started brightly and Clarke gave them an early lead steering the ball home from a corner. They increased the lead on 20 minutes when Dan Baggs headed home Tristan Cox's cross.

However, Spartans showed their determination by pulling a goal back almost immediately when Neil Kellaway chased a long ball over the Bees defence before cutting in and scoring with aplomb.

Clarke grabbed his second on 40 minutes when he drove home from 10 yards following Gale's cut-back to open up a two-goal advantage, and soon into the second-half completed his hat-trick with an easy finish.

Bridport appeared in total control but the Spartans flung caution to the wind by changing their formation and Kieron Howes saw two efforts well saved by Bees' keeper Jamie Fry.

However with 20 minutes left Kellaway once again popped up to reduce the arrears, and when Marcus Simpson scored a third it was game on.

Tails up the Spartans threw everything at the Bees and Fry made crucial saves from Kellaway whilst Roger Cummings had to clear an Owen Kirlew flick off the line, as the Bees held on.

Bridport manager Robin Townsend said: "We should have been home and dry at 4-1, but fair play to Spartans for their comeback."

"As I told the players, it was not so much about the performance, but the result, which we got."

Portland U15 5 Bridport 6

BRIDPORT were disappointed at the size and state of the Portland pitch in what turned out to be a good old game of traditional British football with end-to-end action.

Unable to play their usual passing game because of the long grass, Bridport adapted their game and, after the lead had changed hands several times, clinched the three points with wonderful Dane James free-kick with the last action of the game.

Talbot recovers to clinch late win

PREVIOUS double winner Dudley Sterry, having failed to secure a hat-trick of victories last year in his supercharged MG J2, returned to the Southern Counties Hardy Classic Trial last weekend looking to achieve that elusive victory.

But he was again denied the premier award when the conditions proved too much of a challenge for the venerable partnership.

A maximum 12-point penalty on the third test means the elusive triple will have to wait for another year.

Heavy rainfall during the week preceding the national championship qualifier gave the event a completely different character to that of 12 months ago when conditions were considerably drier.

Undeterred, the entry of over 80 motorcycles and cars departed the Southern Counties Shooting Lodge start with the challenge of 13 testing sections utilising old roads and farm tracks all with a steep gradient.

The object of this sporting exercise, being the further up the section and/or gradient the car goes the less penalties accrued. If you reach the top then no penalties apply and the score is '0' or a 'clean' as it is referred to in trialling.

The first test, near Minterne Magna, allowed competitors to become accustomed to the conditions under wheel, with all but one of the motorcycles going clear and just two of the four wheel contingent accruing penalties.

The first of two sections north of Maiden Newton started to test all categories, with only five of the car classes netting zero penalties.

Steady rainfall then made the conditions even more demanding which was illustrated when last year's winner, Carl Talbot dropped 10 penalty points on the fourth test of the day which was situated just off of the A37 Dorchester to Yeovil road.

Having given the initiative to Ian Davis in his VW Buggy the Morris Trialmaster pilot kept his focus and was back in contention by the time the event approached Bridport and Beaminster where Davis picked up a total of nine penalties on two tests, leaving his advantage as a tenuous single point.

Both Talbot and Davis went clean at Meare Hay, north of Beaminster, leaving the outcome open as they headed to the Mike's Mess test. Here the outcome of the event was determined.

Davis received nine penalties but so did all of his rivals in the 'specials' class with the exception of Talbot who cleared the section without penalty and took his second win on the Woolbridge Motor Club organised event.

The Class "O" category for more standard machines saw a steady performance by Weymouth Leige Sport driver Phil Hyde take him to the head of the division, but his performance was such that he won the Best Woolbridge Motor Club member award and was therefore taken out of the class order.

This left an epic battle for the class win raging right until the end between the Suzuki x90 of Paul Brooks and John Tite from Lyons Gate.

The Ford Jago driver progressively built an advantage on the early sections but dropped five points at Meare Hay and lost a further three to his opponent on the penultimate section of the event to leave the scores level.

The class honours went to the Jago man by virtue of his faster performance on a timed test, the results of which were employed to determine a winner in such circumstances.

As in 2013 the motorcycle class B2 catered for solo motorcycles between 225cc and 450cc and again it provided the overall winner of the motorcycle event in the form of Gas Pampera rider Geoff Walker who, as he did last year, took his 237cc machine around the course without penalty.

With Walker elevated to the overall two wheel win, the class honours went to Dorchester Husaberg TE250 rider Daniel Tinney who dropped scores on only two tests to end the event nine points clear of his nearest challenger Ian Barton with his Suzuki DR2400 on a penalty total of 19.

Big win for Cerne

AFTER a mid-term break the West Dorset Indoor Youth Cricket League resumed at The Osprey Leisure Centre with two games in the under 12's section which produced contrasting results.

Cerne Valley U12 226-1 beat Weymouth B 17 all out by 209 runs

A DOMINANT Cerne put Weymouth to the sword with an emphatic display with both bat and ball.

Batting first, Cerne's batsman plundered runs at will against a plucky but outclassed attack.

Jamie Stuart led the way with a majestic 70 not out. Weymouth gained their only wicket via a well executed run out to dismiss the unfortunate Sam Downey one run short of his half-century.

Chasing a formidable 227 for victory Weymouth were blown away as Will Maltby claimed three wickets in his first over for the loss of just a single run.

Two run outs and a fine catch by Stuart finished off the opposition.

Weymouth C U12 115-5 beat Portland 105 all out by 10 runs

A FINE unbeaten 46 from Ollie James formed the backbone of the Weymouth innings as both teams found runs hard to come by against some accurate bowling and excellent fielding.

All the Portland bowlers got amongst the wickets with the highlight being a first competitive wicket for nine-year old Bradley Morgan.

A hard grafting 14 not out from Ben Hunter enabled Weymouth to post 115.

Portland's reply got off to the worst possible start with Michael Dunning being run out for a duck in the first over.

Weymouth's bowlers kept the run rate down and despite a cultured 45 from Ben Alford, Portland fell ten runs short in the final over.

Eight minutes late Harry Ahearn put the hosts back on level terms,

Terras finally douse Burnham

Burnham 1 Weymouth 2

Calor Premier - att: 138

AFTER three tough games against Burnham Weymouth have emerged still in the FA Trophy and still in a great position in the league.

Victory at The Gore on Saturday saw the Terras complete an almost unprecedented run of eight consecutive league matches away from home, which must have been tiring for players, staff and fans.

Weymouth controlled the first 20 minutes of the game without creating too much to worry Burnham keeper Alex Lynch except for a 20-yard screamer from George Rigg heading for the top corner that he ably dealt with.

Little was seen at the other end of Burnham's attack either, although Dan Brown might have done better than to fire straight at the player-manager Jason Matthews from close in just before the break.

Ryan Debattista had a good chance for the Blues shortly after the break but a sprawling Matthews saw the ball to safety, but it was the Terras that went ahead on 50 minutes when Jordan Copp struck with a low shot from 30 yards that came out of the blue.

But like waiting for buses, having waited almost four and a half hours for a goal from open play in the third game between these two sides in eight days, Burnham equalised just four minutes later.

Romaine Walker beat Jamie Laird before curling his shot into the top corner of Matthew's goal.

It looked like the sides couldn't be separated again as time ticked by, but with seven minutes left, Terras' skipper Stewart Yetton with almost his first opportunity of the game collected Chris McPhee's through ball and lifted the ball over Lynch for the winner.

Burnham 0 Weymouth 0

(AET WEYMOUTH WON 5-4 ON PENS)

FA Trophy 2nd Qual replay - att: 75

WITH almost no goalmouth action in this FA Trophy replay it needed penalties to finally decide who would host Cray Wanderers in the next round

Yetton sent Lynch the wrong way with Weymouth's first, but Gary Jones equalised.

Further successes for Copp, Kelly and Chris Shepherd for Weymouth, and Nickie Kabamba, keeper Lynch and Walker for Burnham sees the scores still level at 4-4.

Tristan Plummer once more puts the Terras ahead but skipper Brad Hewitt misses to give Weymouth victory.

Board drop Biddlecombe

FORMER Terras' chairman Nigel Biddlecombe has announced that following a decision taking at a recent Board meeting, he is no longer acting as secretary to Weymouth Football Club.

His statement advised that Peter Saxby has been asked to undertake the role.

Hyde seeking traction!

◆ MUD LARK: The best performance by a member of the Woolbridge Motor Club at the recent Southern Counties Hardy Classic Trial was achieved by Phil Hyde from Weymouth in his Liege Sport. See report inside on page 55.
